The 2019 UCF In-Unit Pegasus Professor Award

Purpose: The UCF In-Unit Pegasus Professor Award recognizes excellence in the three primary areas of academic endeavor: teaching, research and service.

To be eligible for a UCF In-Unit Pegasus Professor Award, eligibility criteria for an applicant is:

- Having completed five years at the rank of professor at UCF;
- Having achieved excellence in teaching, research and/or creative activity;
- And demonstrable service and scope of national and international impact.

The UCF In-Unit Pegasus Professor Award recipient's privileges will include:

- the right to be called a UCF Pegasus Professor
- award recipients shall receive a one-time payment of $5,000 from Foundation funds as well as a Pegasus statue.

Applications for the UCF In-Unit Pegasus Professor Award will include:

- a letter of nomination from the applicant or from a UCF sponsor
- the applicant's curriculum vitae
- the endorsement of the applicant's chair or director, as well as the dean or vice president; the endorsement may include a 250-word statement of support by the chair or director, as well as the dean or vice president
- no more than three, 500-word letters of support from faculty members, staff members, alumni, professional and community colleagues in addition to the endorsements of the applicant’s chair or director, as well as dean or vice president that are mentioned above.

Application packets will be submitted, as one pdf document combined in order listed above, electronically to Faculty Excellence, at facultyexcellence@ucf.edu by January 7, 2019.

UCF In-Unit Pegasus Professor Awards are ultimately determined by the President or designee.